

LETTER FROM HUMPHREY MARSHALL.

The following patriotic letter from the Hon. HUMPHREY MARSHALL, of Kentucky, in reply to an invitation to be present at the late Union celebration at Cincinnati, should be read by every voter at the South:

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25, 1856.
My Dear Sir:—I could comply with your urgent request that I should be present at the Union meeting of the citizens of Ohio and Kentucky, at Cincinnati and Covington, on the 27th inst. But my duty as a Representative of the people forbids my absence from a single vote to be taken at this extra session of Congress, and I shall not be absent from one, if my life is preserved, should the session last until next March.

If I were with you, I should say to my countrymen that the safety of the Republic depends upon the election of Millard Fillmore to the Presidency, and that, in my humble opinion, if they are not wise enough to determine the matter in that way, they will not be wise enough to save the Union.

I do not write you this of mere personal ambition for Mr. Fillmore, nor because I suppose he alone has wisdom enough to administer the government through a period of difficulty, but because he is the representative of concord and harmony between the great sections of our country, while his competitors aspire to rule, each backed substantially by a sectional party only, and each hoping to succeed by solidifying sectional interests so as to win by it.

Mr. Fremont has no party in any slaveholding State. He may have a ticket in one or more, but every one knows that the most ardent of his supporters claim but a few thousand votes for him in the whole range of those States. On the contrary, he has become the exponent of an immense body of voters in the free States, and his friends in those States claim his election as a matter of which time will render certain, and which they are determined to accomplish. The slave States have 120 votes; the free States 176 votes—149 are necessary to a choice by the people. If Mr. Fremont loses New York he will be defeated, no matter how the vote of the slave States may be split between Buchanan and Fillmore. If he loses Ohio and New Jersey—or if he loses Pennsylvania and California, or Indiana and New York, the same result will follow.

It is useless to say to you that Mr. Buchanan cannot, if left to struggle alone, hope to win the desirable result upon any combination of those States, even if the whole slaveholding States vote for him. His best friends here will hardly claim it—his enemies laugh at the supposition in utter scorn. He could not, if he were elected, save his own State, without the contest being triangular, and unless he be the case in Illinois, he could not hope to win in any of the remainder of the combination.

If Mr. Buchanan continues a candidate, he may impair or utterly defeat Mr. Fillmore, but if he were withdrawn or abandoned, Mr. Fillmore's election would be triumphant and most easy of accomplishment.

New York in all probability under any circumstances, but were Mr. Buchanan abandoned by the slave States, he would carry it beyond any doubt, and in my opinion, would attract votes of all conservative masses throughout the free States. Mr. Buchanan cannot accomplish this result. The reasons for this lie in the fact that he has ever been a vacillating politician, he has committed to ultra schemes of policy which may and will jeopardize the peace of the country, and has taken the shoes of General Pierce upon the unfortunate state of things now existing in Kansas, and touching the slavery agitation that now distracts the country.

There are many other reasons—but suffice it, the fact is as I state it, and all candid men must acknowledge it. If the slave States then prefer to adopt a policy of sectional contest with Mr. Buchanan as a leader, they will support him and leave Mr. Fillmore's friends throughout the free States to withdraw altogether from the vote or to take care of themselves in the sectional contest which is to come off; for I say boldly, that if nothing will do but a sectional contest, the men of each section will adhere to their section, and no human force can prevent it.

If such a contest is to occur, it will be because the Southern people, following the advice of the Southern Democrats, choose it, and will not avail themselves of the chance that is offered to them of electing a man of sound national character, whose former administration of the government was preservative of all the rights, yet who was the voice of all the conservative masses of the free States, and who could again command their suffrages if they saw any corresponding effort on the part of the slave States.—Mr. Buchanan does not command their confidence and cannot attract their support.—The South then has the choice fully and fairly presented to it of a sectional contest, or of a national struggle in which men of the highest ability will contend, and in which every section will act by making the contest between Fillmore and Fremont, and as the South makes her bed she must lie.

I speak plainly because I feel deeply. In the event of Mr. Buchanan's election I foresee a condition of things which will paralyze the energies of this Government—protract the sectional disputes—involve the country in civil, and probably in a foreign war, and end in the overthrow of the Union, or in a struggle, between the two sections, on a lower platform of Radicalism than either of the parties—Republican or Democrat—now occupy. That is to contemplate only a protracted decline of the Republic instead of its speedy dissolution, which I believe would be the consequence of the sectional contest now. Men may smile at such a conclusion and doubtless some good men will say that I never saw a man so much in a hurry, and never was more thoroughly convinced of the truth of my conclusions than I am now while writing this.

If the Democratic and Republican parties have brought affairs to that pass here, that the struggle in the legislative department of government between them paralyzes the government, and stops the necessary appropriation for the common defense, what hope have we that the contest is transferred to the people, and they combined under leaders who ply every effort to deepen the struggle into one purely sectional, it will be less embittered than it now has become? We are at a point where we may save ourselves, pass it and we shall drift in a stream whose only outlet is a sea of anarchy. Have the people—the American people—will they save their country by saving the Union of these States?—That is the question that now presses for their answer, and trust in God to guide your meeting to such a result as to make that answer propitious of a bright or future than I now picture to my mind's eye.

I am no orator. Look back on my public life, and I think no record can be found where I ever raised a doubt of the perpetuity of the Government. But I tell my countrymen plainly I do now doubt it, and I look to the future with a solicitude and anxiety my bosom has heretofore been a stranger to. The people have all in their own hands. If madness rules the hour, the slave States will reject Mr. Fillmore, and will precipitate the catastrophe we shall hereafter so much deplore. If wisdom prevails, the people will rally to his standard, and will by his election, re-establish concord between the sections, and place the country upon the high road to a fulfillment of its proper destiny. There is nothing I have or hope for on this earth I would not yield to save my country, and if there ever was a time or will

NEWS.

St. Louis, Sept. 12.—Gen. Richardson, of the Kansas territorial militia, has been captured by a freebooter band, but was liberated by Lane. Great alarm was felt at Leavenworth City, in apprehension of an attack by Lane, which was rumored as in contemplation.—Gen. P. F. Smith had ordered four companies of the United States forces to protect the place.

Lane was still at Lawrence, with no indications of intention to leave that town. Chicago, Sept. 12.—Private letters received here from Kansas state that Lane was meditating an attack on Westport, Kansas City and Independence, Mo. Governor Geary has reached his field of duty.

Richardson's force at North Lawrence is cut off from retreat and reinforcements. Washington, Sept. 12.—It is understood that both, Gov. Geary and Gen. Smith, have been informed by telegraph that they will be furnished with additional forces if necessary to maintain the public peace and to bring punishment for all acts of violence or disorder by whomsoever perpetrated, and only persons enrolled by Smith shall be allowed to carry on military operations in Kansas.

Baltimore, Sept. 12.—There was a terrible riot this p.m., between a Fillmore fishing club and a party of men at seventeenth ward, Democratic held quarters; two men were shot dead and twenty others wounded, several it is believed fatally.

Boston, Sept. 12.—The German Turner's association held their annual festival at Needham yesterday. Speeches were made by Senator Wilson, Gustave Silver and Mr. Donahue, much enthusiasm. Resolutions endorsing Fremont and Dayton and the Republican platform were unanimously adopted.

New York, Sept. 14.—The United States Mail Steam Ship Company's steamer George Washington, Capt. W. L. Herndon, has arrived from Spain, bringing the California mails via Panama, and Aspinwall to dates of the 19th ult., and $1,600,000 in gold.

The authorities at Havana refused, at first, to let the mails for that place be landed, but they were subsequently deposited.

Judge Terry had been released. On the 18th ultimo there was a grand review at San Francisco of the troops and forces subject to the Committee of Vigilance, numbering from four to five thousand.

Washington, Sept. 14.—It is generally believed here that the President will not receive Appleton Oaksmith, who has been sent as a successor to Padre Vilja, as Minister from Nicaragua.

New York, Sept. 14.—We learn from Key West that the packet, at New York from New Orleans pocket liner, was wrecked on one of the Florida reefs on the 28th ult.

We are informed also of the wreck and total loss of a French ship, name yet unknown, on the Florida reefs, during the severe gale. The cargo—chiefly sugar—was a total loss, and several of the crew are believed to have perished.

STRAWS.—A ballot-box was arranged at the Exchange Hotel, in Dock street, Philadelphia, on Saturday, and printed tickets for the three candidates were furnished.—Considerable feeling was evinced by those who visited the establishment, and at four o'clock the polls were closed, the vote being as follows: For Fillmore, 785; Buchanan, 437; Fremont, 185; Gerrit Smith, 1. Total, 1,378.

The Nashville Gazette charges that Gov. Aaron Pugh has prophesied in the Democratic convention of 1852, that the nomination of Buchanan would break up the party. The prophecy has come true, and we are to judge by the piteous calls the Democracy are making to the Old-Line Whigs and others for help.

VERMONT STIRRING.—We are glad to hear that a Fillmore and Donelson meeting is called in Burlington this week. If all the opposition to the Pierce administration in that State is to be claimed for Fremont, it is quite time, to show as in Connecticut, Rhode Island, and New York, that there is no such monopoly of that opposition.

PRAYER OF AN OLD CLAY WHIG.—A correspondent of the New York Express says: "In conversation with an old Henry Clay Whig, a few days since, one of those relics of the conservatism that was, that yet remain to bless our eyes—he passed a moment, and then earnestly said, 'God grant that Millard Fillmore may be elected!'"

Thousands of similar prayers are going up, with strong faith, too, that they will be answered.

An editor in Iowa has been fined $250 for hugging a girl in meeting. "Cheap enough," says another of the fraternity, "we once hugged a girl in meeting, and it cost us a thousand dollars a year." "Served 'em both right," they will learn how to behave.

MOUSE CAKE, Sept. 8, 1856.
Mr. Editor: My daughter desires, through the medium of your paper, to tender her thanks to Professor Cooke for the judicious selection of her Piano. She has had the opportunity since she received it of trying a great many, and thinks it not surpassed if, in fact, equalled by any that has come under her notice. Since my daughter commenced taking music lessons I have taken considerable notice of Pianos, with a view to the better able to make a proper selection when I might have to purchase, and I am free to say that I am pleased beyond expectation with the Piano furnished us by Mr. Cooke. The furniture is very neat, and on a credit of one equal to any I ever heard of, and after six months use is better, if possible, than at first. It remains as when first set up—perfectly in tune. Prof. Cooke sends a portion of every year in the Cleveland Lodge in North and in every year, even months and eighteen days, only child of the late Rev. 8th Church, of Winsted, Conn.

THE LAST BLOCKADE.—The coast put under blockade by Walker is on one thousand and twelve hundred miles in extent, part on the Atlantic and part on the Pacific, and to enforce it he has one schooner in the Pacific.

THE ST. LOUIS DEMOCRAT says it is estimated that the wheat crop of Wisconsin, the present year, will not fall short of fourteen millions of bushels.
